MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR TENTATIVE DATES OF
THE 33rd ANNUAL USOMC: February 17 – 23, 2025

Greetings from the President

Dear Students, Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

Welcome to the 32nd Annual United States Open Music Competition (“USOMC”)! We are delighted to see the return of so many students and welcome all the new ones to this year’s competition. We’re expecting over 2600 entries this year!

One of our biggest accomplishments has been the launch of our series of recordings available for contestants (free of charge) to guide their preparation for this competition. Our judges have tirelessly contributed their own recordings (as well as written instructions) of 226 different pieces from the USOMC events with preselected music in an unprecedented effort to provide direction to the contestants before the competition rather than only in a feedback format afterward. To our knowledge, this has not been done in any other competition. We believe the students will benefit much from this additional music inspiration from the adjudicators of 2024.

I’m happy to announce that (1) we will continue to grant additional awards of six thousand dollars from the Samuel Tak Lee Scholarship Foundation to be given to the best winners of the six Prize Winners’ Concerts; (2) USOMC will again present a Piano Concert from a Distinguished Adjudicator, followed by (3) a Master-class for the top three Showcase Winners of 2024. This year the featured concert artist will be Dr. Scott Holden, as the finale of our competition. Both of these events will be held at the Los Altos Steinway Showroom on Sunday, February 25th, 2024. They are presented free of charge to the public, with limited seating on a first-come, first-served basis. To reserve your tickets, RSVP at <https://forms.gle/BTPw7FJveWrBFWDy9> or call 1.650.559.7888.

Parents and Teachers: We are so grateful that the students have you in their corners as they prepare for and compete in the USOMC. The challenge of preparing for a competition includes not only mastery of musicality, artistry, and technique but also the students’ enduring tenacity in their commitment to further their music education.

We aim to provide the best environment for the competition, including a comfortable and safe space to perform with the very best pianos and maintained at their best conditions. We hire only the very best judges we can find, and we provide consistent metric-driven guidelines to aid their decision-making. For 2024, there are a total of 34 adjudicators and 93 different events; all with one-round competition, and results announced immediately after each event.

Students: Your perseverance and commitment to your music studies are the cornerstones of what will surely be your success as an artist and beyond. This competition is your chance to show what kind of performer you are, to receive invaluable comments from esteemed judges, and to meet and listen to hundreds of outstanding contestants. The importance of learning from all of these surpasses any medal you can receive. It is critical in your journey as a musician not to lose sight of the true rewards of being here.

Why is USOMC unlike any other competition in the world today? We strive for musical excellence and a place to nurture artistic potential. With diverse variety of competition events to generate opportunities for musicians at all levels to prove their mettle. This bears repeating: musicians at ANY level of mastery benefit from participating in this competition. While other competitions may spotlight only a small group of the most accomplished musician, USOMC provides many unusual events to recognize musical talents more broadly and therefore we achieve the important goal of inspiring and encouraging growth and development in young and promising musicians. We are here for the students.

Board members, staff, and volunteers worked hard every year to host this event. They gave their time and energy out of their love of music and desire to provide memorable experiences for the contestants, families, teachers, and friends. We welcome you to join us in our endeavors. If you have ideas about ways to improve, please let me know directly or speak to any one of our dedicated board members. We wish the best for each contestant, we hope you continue your hard work, and we look forward to hopefully seeing you return next year.

Sincerely,
